

Biography

Dr Georgina Clifford is a trauma specialist and experienced Clinical Psychologist who is currently working towards a PhD, studying the role of memory in Complex PTSD at the University of Cambridge. Her research is translational, involving the development of novel treatment approaches for Complex PTSD. Dr Clifford is the Director of London Trauma Specialists and specialises in Trauma-focused Cognitive Behaviour Therapy (CBT) and has experience and expertise in treating psychological presentations in the aftermath of traumatic experiences.